Report of incident received. Reports can be received from several sources such as law enforcement, university offices, and/or the Sexual Misconduct Response Coordinator. Judicial administrator assigned to investigate. Student is notified. Judicial administrator meets with student. If necessary, judicial administrator will meet with complaining party and other witnesses.

Judicial administrator determines the student did not violate University policy.

Case dismissed and parties informed.

Complaining party may appeal finding to the Office of the Vice President for Student Life.

The Office of the Vice President for Student Life affirms, reverses, or remands the decision of the judicial administrator. The Dean of Students informs all parties of appeal outcome.

Judicial administrator determines the student violated University policy.

Judicial administrator determines the accused student violated University policy and non-suspension sanctions are warranted.

Non-suspension sanctions imposed by judicial administrator and parties informed.

Accused party and/or complaining party may appeal finding and sanction to the Vice President for Student Life.

The Office of the Vice President for Student Life affirms, reverses, or remands the decision of the judicial administrator. The Dean of Students informs all parties of appeal outcome.

Student disputes charges.

Formal administrative hearing ordered. The Dean of Students appoints a charging officer and an adjudicator. All parties notified of hearing date.

Formal hearing. The adjudicator questions the witnesses based in part on questions submitted by the charging officer, accused student, and complaining party.

The adjudicator renders a decision in writing.

The Office of the Provost affirms, reverses, or remands the decision of the adjudicator. The Dean of Students informs all parties of appeal outcome.

Student found not guilty.

Case dismissed and parties notified.

Sanction(s) imposed by the Dean of Students and parties informed.

Complaining party and/or charging officer may appeal decision to the Office of the Provost.

The Office of the Provost affirms, reverses, or remands the decision of the adjudicator. The Dean of Students informs all parties of appeal outcome.

Student found guilty.

Sanction(s) imposed by the Dean of Students and parties informed.

Accused party, complaining party, and/or charging officer may appeal sanction to the Office of the Provost.

The Office of the Provost affirms, reverses, or remands the decision of the adjudicator. The Dean of Students informs all parties of appeal outcome.